Dr. Stewart A.L. Glegg received his Ph. D. from the Institute of Sound and Vibration Research, Southampton University, U.K. in 1979 for studies in acoustics. He was a research specialist with Westland Helicopters, U.K. for two years (1977-1979) and then joined the Institute for Sound and Vibration Research, Southampton University (1979-1985) as a faculty member sponsored by the Navy working on Hydroacoustics. In 1985 he joined the faculty in the Department of Ocean Engineering at Florida Atlantic University, and was promoted to full Professor in 1990. He was a Visiting Scholar at Scripps Institute of Oceanography in 1991, and from 2001 until 2003 he was Chairman of the Department of Ocean Engineering at Florida Atlantic University, and Director of SeaTech. He is currently the Director of the Center for Acoustics and Vibration at FAU. He has also been a member of the Board of Directors of the South Florida Ocean Measurement Center and the Board of Governors of the Consortium for Oceanographic Research and Education based in Washington, DC. He is an Associate Fellow of the American Institute for Aeronautics and Astronautics, and a member of the Acoustical Society of America, and ASME. He has served these societies on technical committees for Underwater Acoustics (ASA), Acoustical Oceanography (ASA), and Aeroacoustics (AIAA). He is also an ABET program evaluator for Ocean Engineering. He was an Associate Editor for the AIAA Journal (1994-97) and serves on the editorial board of the Journal of Sound and Vibration and the Journal of Aeroacoustics. In May 2004 he was awarded the American Institute for Aeronautics and Astronautics Aeroacoustics Award for "Outstanding contributions to the understanding and reduction of fan noise in turbo machinery".
